

CPYRGHT

U. S. Girl, 5 Die In Alps Avalanche

ST. ANTON, Austria, Jan. 28 (AP)—An American woman skier, three Britons and two Germans were killed today by an avalanche in this Alpine winter resort.

The American victim was identified by police as Janet Lester-Neville, twenty-six, a student, of West Chester, Pa.

The avalanche struck a group of nine skiers, led by an Austrian instructor, while practicing near the Ulmer Mountain hut at an altitude of 6,000 feet. Rescuers managed to dig out three persons alive.